

Through a constant flood of new information the new Scientologist comes to believe that the government is under the control of a secret group of "suppressive" and evil men somewhere on the planet. That all government agencies have as their goal the destruction of Scientology, which is the Only hope for man. That universities are also controlled by these invisible and "suppressive" influences. That all people outside of Scientology (who come to be known by the derogatory term "wog") are unenlightened and therefore a threat to the only hope that mankind has for survival, i.e.: Scientology. That all one's former friends and even one's family are to be distrusted and feared as potential threats to one's survival. Again and again in the Scientology propaganda the new Scientologist is told that unless Scientology succeeds in mission, mankind faces certain doom.

Examples of this propaganda taken from Scientology policies, are as follows:

"Don't try to persuade. Penetrate. Don't try to overwhelm. Penetrate... We are the first group on earth that knew what they were talking about. All right, so it is. The world's ours. Own it." From The World is Ours, by L. Ron Hubbard.

"A civilization without insanity, without criminals and without war, where the able can prosper and honest beings can have rights and where Man is free to rise to greater heights, are the aims of Scientology... After endless millennia of ignorance about himself, his mind and the Universe, a breakthrough has been made for Man... The combined truth of fifty thousand years of thinking men, distilled and amplified by new discoveries about Man, have made for this success... Scientology is the most vital movement on Earth today... the sun never sets on Scientology. Our aims are simple, if great. And we will succeed and are succeeding at each new revolution of the Earth." From The Aims Of Scientology, by L. Ron Hubbard.

"A post in a Scientology Organization isn't a job. It's a trust and a crusade. We're free men and women - probably the last free men and women on earth. If we don't do a good job now we may never get another chance." From Your Post, by L. Ron Hubbard.

"Auditors have since the first session of Scientology been the only individuals on this planet in this universe capable of freeing Man." From Auditors, by L. Ron Hubbard.

"We are the Free People. Groom from out of the mud and jungle rot of fear, our unchained minds can reach afar and grasp the idea of ultimate Freedom... Scientology - The Road Sign Out. We are the Free People. We LIVE! We're Free!" From We Are The Free People, by L. Ron Hubbard.

"Today can be ours. Tomorrow can come. Let us be ready for it. We are the prime movers in this, the new age. Forget the old. Face up to what will come. And let the dead yesterdays bury the philosophy of authority and Capital Gains and Communist psychology cults. We're no longer tied. The eons march on. Space Opera has again come to a planet on which we live. Always before it meant destruction. Perhaps, this time, due to our efforts, a humanitarian world can exist. We, the Prophets of the Morrow, know the way." From Scientology: The Philosophy of a New Age, by L. Ron Hubbard.

"My purpose is to bring a barbarism out of the mud it thinks conceived it and to form here on Earth a civilization based on human understanding, not violence. That's a big purpose. A broad field. A star-high goal. But I think it's your purpose, too." From How We Work On the Third Dynamic, by L. Ron Hubbard.

"Let us face the reality of this thing. The world confronts several crises.

Man's inhumanity to ~LRn is cjainin~ momentum daily. The time to bring a chaos under control is before it is well begun. We're slightly late as it is. Brutally, there is no other organization on Earth that can slow these down. Factually, there is no other know-how on Earth that can plumb the problems of Man. So if we don't ~nt all of us to be sitting amongst the charred embers, we had better get busy." From The Eighteenth A.C.C., by L. Ron Hubbard.

"In fifty thousand years of history on this planet alone, Man never evolve a workable system. It is doubtful if, in foreseeable history, he will ever evolve another. Man is caught in a huge and complex labyrinth. To get out of it requires that he follow the closely taped path of Scientology. Scientology will take him out of the labyrinth. But Only if he follows the exact markings in the t~qnels. It has taken me a third of a century in this lifetime to tape this route out... Scientologl~, exactly and correctly followed, takes the person up and out of the mess... Scientology is the only workable system Man hrs. It has already taken people toward higher IQ, better lives and all that. N. other system has. So realize that it has no competitor... Scientology is a workable system. It has the route taped. The search is done. Now the route only needs to be ~ralked. So put the feet of students on that route. Don't let them off of it no matter how fascinating the side roads seem to them. And move them on up and out... Don't let your party down. By whatever means, keep them on the route. And they'll be free. If you don't, they won't." From Safe~uarding Technology, by L. Ron Hubbard.

"We are the only people and the only organization on Earbb which have the tecl~nology and the ambition bo attempt a clarification of situations which in other hands are considered entirely out of control, to wit, the atomic bomb and the decay and confusion of central governments." From Purpose, by L. Ron Hubbard.

"We're not playing some minor game in Scientology. It isn't cute or something to do for lack of something better.

The whole agonized future of this planet, every Man, WOmAn and child on it and your own destiny for the next endless trillions Of years depends on what you do here and how with and in Scientology.

This is a deadly serious activity, and if we miss getting out of the trap now, we may never again have another chance."

From Kee~ing Scientole~y Working, by L. Ron Hubbard. (Exhibit 3)

Every Scientologist is fanatically devoted to the idea that his/her ultimate survival depends upon spreading Scientology to the ends of the Earth, know~ as "clearing the planet" (getting everyone on earth to the Scientology level of "Clear"). A Scientologist believes that his/her survival for trillions of years into the future depends on the success of Scientolo~y. The survival of Scientology supersedes any "wo~" (or civilian) law. That is why a Scientologist, using the Scientology phrase "the greatest good for the greatest number of dynamics" (a variant of the old philosophy of the ends justifying the means), will willingly participate in and justify any and all criminal acts, including murder, if such acts will contribute toward the protection and survival of Scientology.

Scientologists are trained to believe in reincarnation, with a few new twists. A Scientologist is taught that he is in reality a soul, or "thetan," encased in a body, and that he has "owned" a succession of different bodies in the past. In Dianetic "auditing," a Scientologist will "remember" his many past lives, for thousands and millions of years into the past. These past lives become an important part of the person's self concept, and serve as the starting point in the process of a progressive distortion of reality that will become exploited on the secret "upper levels" of Scientology. The Scientologist believes that upon death the soul, or "thetan" (himself) is returned to an "implant station" in space, where he is electronically processed to forget the life he has just lived, and where he is processed to begin a new life. When the "thetan" is sent back to Earth to "pick up a new body" and begin a new life.

Scientologists believe that thousands of years ago, the organization now known as Scientology came here to Earth to attempt to help mankind, and "clear the planet," but that for some reason, it failed. So now they have come back. Thus the motto of the Sea Organization, the central organization in Scientology, is: "We Come Back." Members of the Sea Organization, upon joining, sign a billion-year contract, because the belief is that once this planet is "cleared," they will then go on to "clear" other planets. (~bdqibit 4)

It is important to understand that all Scientology beliefs are acquired when the person is in a reduced state of awareness brought about by hypnotic drills. When a person loses the ability to cognitively evaluate the ideas to which he/she is exposed, and this loss of cognitive function increases with the time spent in Scientology.

It is also important to understand the strength with which these beliefs are held by a Scientologist, and the strength of the mind control influencing members of this organization. The despair of parents, who find themselves helpless in countering these beliefs in their children, is a testimony to the success of the "brainwashing" that has been subtly, but successfully, carried out on Scientologists. It is the testimony of many ex-members of this organization that a Scientologist has the potential for both murder or suicide, even enough external pressure. One member who was interviewed admitted to having participated in the plans to murder two defectors from the organization, although there is no evidence that either of these murders were carried out.

Another belief among Scientologists is in the absolute infallibility of founder, L. Ron Hubbard. Hubbard does occupy messiah status among Scientologists. Hubbard is believed to be the reincarnation of Buddha, which he proclaims in his book, "The History of Asia." Hubbard's words, both tape-recorded and printed, are accepted as gospel by the Scientologist. Any questions or doubts expressed by a member bring severe punishment.

Hubbard's credentials are never questioned within Scientology. In his official biography, Hubbard states that he travelled extensively in Asia as boy; that he is a nuclear physicist; that he had a distinguished military career; that he healed himself from crippling war injuries and from blindness using the techniques of Dianetics; that he has an advanced university degree. Subsequent research into the background of Hubbard reveals, on the contrary, that his travels as a boy were mostly imaginary; that he received mostly failing grades in college, including an "F" in a course on nuclear physics; that his military career was embarrassing, and that as a result of his military exploits he was institutionalized in a mental hospital and pronounced "unfit for combat"; that his physical ailments included an ulcer and conjunctivitis; and that his advanced degree was purchased from a "diploma mill."

Also interesting in Hubbard's background is his fascination, apparently from an early age, with the satanic writings and practices of Aleister

Crowley. Hubbard belonged to a satanic lodge in California known as the O.T.O. (Ordo Templis Orientalis) where he participated in bizarre satanic rites. According to Hubbard's son L. Ron Hubbard, Jr., his father considered himself to be the successor to Crowley when Crowley died in 1937; he believed that he had taken on "the mantle of the Beast." Hubbard told his son that Scientology actually began on December the 1st, 1937, the day Aleister Crowley died. According to this son Hubbard's purpose in Scientology was to "crack souls," to bring unknown people under his control and to use them as channels for satanic purposes. Interestingly, the secret "upper levels" of Scientology - their contents carefully guarded from the public and the media - are almost exclusively concerned with the invoking and exorcism of demons.

Hubbard believed in the practice of using affirmations, and one of the affirmations that he repeated frequently was as follows:

"All men shall be my slaves!

All women shall succumb to my charms!

All men shall grovel at my feet and not know

The actual activities inside Scientology center around the delivery of "auditing," a very structured pseudo-psychotherapy. A Scientology trained "auditor" will ask a series of structured questions which will then be answered by the "preclear," or person being "audited." These questions at the lower levels will concern different areas of the "preclear's" life. At the upper levels of "auditing" however, these questions will become increasingly bizarre, often involved with mythical events happening thousands or millions of years ago. The "preclear," having swallowed the "bait" at the lower levels, and even possibly having gained some benefit from the lower levels, will proceed to the upper levels - having been promised that on these levels he will regain long lost superhuman abilities. The Scientologist is told that on the upper levels he will become an OT, or "operational thetan," and that he will possess the abilities to "exteriorize," or travel outside his body with full perception, to use telepathy to communicate; to move objects with his will; and ultimately, to control all matter and energy with thought. Many Scientologists spend hundreds of thousands of dollars in pursuit of these elusive goals.

The first course done by a new Scientologist is the Communications Course. As with much of Scientology, what the person thinks is happening on this course is different from what is really happening. He/she is told that on this course he/she will become better able to "co-]unicate," resulting in improvements in his c-reer, marriage, finances, etc. But ~hat is actually happening on this course is that he is being subjected to hypnotic and control drills that will result in a loss of co-nitive and emotive function.

The first drill on this course, kno~m as TRO (for Training Routing O) consists of two people sitting in chairs facing each other. The drill is supposed to improve eye contact, or "confront." The two people stare into each other's eyes for a period of time, usually two hours. If either person blinks or moves in any ~ay, the two hours are started over. This is a hypnotic drill and results in an alt_ =red state of consciousness in the person. After doing this drill, the person will do other drills, or return to read propaganda or listen to tape recordred messages by Hubbard.

In the second drill, TRO "bullbaited," the person again stares into the eyes of his/her partner, only this time the partner ~ill say or do things calculated to make the person doing TRO react in some ~{ay. In hullbaiting, anything is allor{ed. Phe purpose is to find the other person's "buttons," areas of "charge," or things to which that person might react. Areas frequent "bullbaited" are weight, s~ality, appearance, family issues, etc. The result of this drill is that the person's emotions become blunted or t=ned off.

Other TR's, or "training routines" have to do with control. A person is n_ le to do things which make no sense at all, simply because he/she is cor~nanded to do them. These drills accustom the person to external control, and this will be e~loited later by the organization. In one such drill~ the person shouts co~nands at an ashtray at the top of his/her voice, telling the ashtray to rise off the table, then thanking the ashtray for doing so. According to one e_x-member who researched these drills, this drill was once used by the Nazis, who did the drill ~{ith an apple instead of an ashtray.

The next course done by a Scientologist is the Dianetics Course, on ~hich b~/she learns to trace back through the hundreds of past lives on his/her "time track" and to recall them in colorful detail.

The next series of courses are the "grades," numbered 0 through 4, in ~{hi the "preclear" (person not yet "Clear") looks at different aspects of his/her current life.

The first "confidential levels," called Power, Solo, and Clear are carefully guarded from the uninitiated. Members on these levels study the levels in locked classrooms; they carry the "materials" from these classes in locked briefcases; they are forbidden from discussing these levels with anyone, even their spouses. They believe that these levels contain the hidden secrets of this universe.

the very top levels, Scientologists are told bizarre science fiction stories about events that supposedly happened millions of years ago. They are taught that 95 million years ago, through a complex series of events leading to atomic eY=plisions, many souls or "thetans" bocame "pac]caged" together in "clusters." Through auditing, the Scientologists can cor~unicate with the hundreds of de~mons around them and begin to separate from them, cemvincing these demons to leave and find new bodies. As bizarre as this seems, there are now thousands of Scientologists around the world who are occupied many hours a day with this activity - and paying prices up to $1000 per hour for the privilege of ridding themselves of their demons. The "OT levels" of Scientology, the secret upper levels, are almost exclusively devoted to this activity. According to Hubbard, once you have rid yourselves of your demons, then your long dormant superhuman abilities, particularly that of "re-orientation," will begin to appear. (Exhibit 5)

Another activity that occurs in Scientology is one known as "sec checking or security checking. At different points in one's Scientology career, the Scientologist will be asked various questions while connected to the E-meter, or lie detector. The purpose of these security checks is to ferret out any potential defectors, or traitors to the organization. Another purpose, although unstated at the time, is to gather incriminating information about each member that can be used later to blackmail the person should he/she decide to defect from the organization. Although a Scientologist is told that all contents of his auditing files are strictly confidential, this is not true. An internal memo states that all auditing files can be used to look for incriminating information to be used against an individual. (Exhibit 6)

During a standard security check, a member may be asked such questions as:

Have you ever stolen anything?

Have you ever been in prison?

Have you ever embezzled money?

Have you ever been a drug addict?

Have you ever raped anyone?

Do you have a police record?

Have you ever made a practice of sexual perversion?

Have you ever murdered anyone?

Have you ever taken money for giving anyone sexual intercourse?

Have you ever done anything you are afraid the police will find out about?

Have you ever been a member of the Communist Party? Etc. (Exhibit 7)

In Scientology, there is also what is known as a Whole Track Security Check, in which the person will be asked about crimes committed in his/her past lives, as:

Have you ever enslaved a population?

Have you ever committed genocide?

Have you ever sacked a city?

Have you ever annihilated a population?

Have you ever destroyed a culture?

Have you ever practiced terrorism?

Have you ever seduced infants?

Have you ever bred bodies for defaming purposes?

Have you deliberately tortured someone?

Have you ever enslaved another being?

Did you come to Earth for evil purposes?

Have you ever made a planet radioactive?

Have you ever caused a planet to disappear?

Have you ever blinded anyone?

Have you ever applied a hot iron to another person's body?

Have you ever boiled someone's living body in oil?

Have you ever eaten a human body?

Have you ever stretched another's body on a rack?

Have you ever made love to a dead body?

-12-

Have you ever had sexual relations with an animal, or bird?

Do you deserve to be enslaved?

(There are 343 such questions.) (Exhibit 8)

In Scientology, there is also a Security Check for children under the age of twelve. (Exhibit 9)

The central organization in Scientology is known as the "Sea Organization" deriving from the fact that until the middle seventies, Hubbard and his closest followers lived on a group of ships sailing and docking in the Mediterranean. In the seventies, the Sea Organization, or "Sea Org," purchased a complex of buildings in the small town of Clearwater, Florida. "Flag," or the "Flag Land Base" in Clearwater now serves as the international headquarters for Scientology. ("Flag" referring to the flagship in Hubbard's old fleet of ships.)

"Sea Org" members sign a contract for a billion years of service, which is taken very seriously. The Sea Organization is run as a para-military organization. Members wear military-looking uniforms. Rank and insignia are observed. Life in the Sea Org is extremely strict. Living is for the most part communal. Children are raised communally. The hours are long and the pay nominal. Sea Org members work 16-18 hours a day or more, Sundays and holidays included, with usually two and a half hours free on Saturdays for "personal time." Discipline is often severe. Sea Org members address each other in a military fashion.

Activity in a Scientology organization is governed by statistics, or "stars." Each staff member must keep track of his/her productivity by hour, day and week, and graph statistics for whatever activity assigned. These "stars" will be turned in to the Organization Once a week and reviewed by executives. Any member failing to achieve acceptable "stars" for the week will be punished by being sent to "ethics," which is the disciplinary arm of the organization. "Ethics" personnel will assist the offending staff person to a "lower condition," which he/she will then have to "work out of" by performing additional, and often demeaning, labor. In some lower conditions, the person will have to work as many as 72 hours without sleep. In one lower condition, the person has to perform an effective act against an "enemy of Scientology" in order to be readmitted to the group.

"Ethics" can also assist a person in a lower condition to the dreaded "RPF," or "Rehabilitation Project Force," which is the prison of Scientology.

In the RPF, a person must perform hard labor, often working on the renovations of buildings, or doing the unwanted cleaning chores within Scientology. Some ex-members have reported that in the RPF, they were forced to sleep on the floor, were deprived of sleep, had to wear grey racers around their arms so that other members knew not to speak to them, were not allowed to speak to anyone unless spoken to, and even had to eat food left on plates of other members. It is also interesting that in Scientology, when a person becomes psychotic on the upper levels, as does happen, the person will frequently be sent to the RPF as punishment.

Scientology also has its own execution procedure. This bizarre and controversial procedure, known as R2-45, meaning Routine #2 and the 45 referring to a Colt 45 revolver, was first referred to by Hubbard in a book called The Creation of Human Ability. In one document in Scientology, Hubbard ordered that R2-45 be carried out on a number of defectors from the organization. Although R2-45 may not be taken seriously by many current Scientologists, most Scientologists do know what R2-45 refers to.

Another policy which has been controversial for the Scientologists is the policy called "Fair Game." The Fair Game policy states that any enemy of Scientology, known as a "Suppressive Person," may be "tricked, sued, lied to or destroyed" by any means. Although the policy was later rescinded because of its negative public relations impact, most ex-members feel strongly that the Fair Game policy is still very much in effect.

People who leave Scientology often are the targets for harassment by the organization. If a "defector" is to sue the organization, he/she will be branded as a "Suppressive Person" and subject to the Fair Game techniques. Harassing phone calls, death threats, and harassment of employers have been reported. Most ex-members who do sue are eventually silenced by out-of-court settlements which include "gag orders" restraining the ex-members from discussing any aspect of their involvement with the organization. Many defectors are simply too terrified of the organization to speak out against it.

Part 2: The criminal policies and activities of Scientology

One of the more curious aspects of the "Church" of Scientology is their Office of Special Affairs, or "OSA." OSA is simply a renamed version of Scientology's controversial "Guardian's Office." The Guardian's Office was created by Hubbard in 1966, and was managed for many years by Hubbard's wife, Mary Sue. In 1976, eleven "GO" agents, including Mary Sue, were arrested by the F.B.I. and indicted for having infiltrated various government offices in Washington, DC. Using false credentials, they managed to photocopy over 30,000 pages of government documents relating to Scientology. After this happened, the Guardian's Office was supposedly abolished, although the newly formed OSA is structurally and functionally similar to the older organization. The Guardian's Office was originally formed "to help Hubbard enforce and issue policy, to safeguard Scientology orgs (organizations), Scientologists, and Scientology and to engage in long-term promotion." But the GO, and now OSA, are primarily engaged in obtaining information on the many "enemies" of Scientology, and in carrying out campaigns aimed at destroying these enemies.

OSA has six bureaus: Legal, Public Relations, Information (usually called Intelligence), Social Coordination, Service (for training of OSA staff members), and Finance.

OSA's Bureau of Information has two sections: Overt and Covert Data Collection. There is also an Operations section in which the various campaigns against "enemies" are carried out. This bureau was Hubbard's private CIA, keeping dossiers on both friends and enemies of the "Church," and compiling supposedly confidential information on members of the "church" to be used for blackmail purposes should they defect.

In keeping with the secrecy of this organization, most of the internal GO and OSA documents are heavily coded, so as to be inscrutable to outsiders.

The Training Pack used to train OSA "agents" is interesting. In one section, the new agent is asked to define the following words: spy, spying, agent, operative, information, intelligence, espionage, counter espionage, counter intelligence, fascism, socialism, communism, CL- FBI, MI6, MI5- KGB, and GRU. Some of the policies studied on this course include:

Terror Stalks

Communism and Scientology

The War

Codes and Coding

Intelligence Actions

The Spy and His Masters

The Art of Cover

Front Group

Counter-Espionage

Disinformation

Black Propaganda

Dead Agent

Debugging

Pain, Drugs, Hypnosis

Security and Theft of Materials

On this course the agent-in-training must write an essay entitled: "Who our enemies are and their tactics." (Exhibit 10)

Some of the more interesting "criminal policies" of Scientology are as follows:

1. Re: Red Box - a policy giving instructions on how to quickly get all incriminating information into a specially designated "red box" and carried out of the organization in the case of a government raid. "Red Box data" is defined as: "proof that a Scientologist is involved in criminal activities; anything illegal that implicates Hubbard or his wife; operations against any government group or persons; all operations that contain illegal activities; evidence of incriminating activities; and names and details of confidential financial accounts."
2. Basic and Essential Security of Bi (Bureau 1) Operations Material - a policy giving the order that any incriminating documents re: OSA or GO operations must be capable of being destroyed within 30-60 seconds. The recommended method is by fire.
3. Vetting Hat Write-Up - a policy on how to clean up the internal Intelligence Bureau files of incriminating material. The types of evidence specified which needs to be destroyed includes: "mentions or the ordering of a "B&E" (breaking and entering); evidence of stolen materials; evidence or orders on "casing" (surveillance); evidence of posing as a government agent; evidence of tapping phone lines or illegal taping of phone conversations; mentions of harassment of individuals; evidence of bribery; evidence of entrapment; any wording that could be incriminating, i. e., "let's wipe him out."

Re: Coding/Wording of Messages Re BI Activities - this contains instructions on coding OSA or GO documents so as to "give no indication activities nor cause any suspicion of criminal activities-" Listed in this document are general categories of data needing coding: "incriminating, undercover activities and the like; violations of our status as a tax exempt, non-profit organization; evidence of lobbying, proposing legislation, supporting candidates; subversive activities; money deals that might provoke government tax offices, i.e.: large transfers of funds out of the country; missions burying or hiding income, setting up false accounts, using mission funds to finance a profit-making loan company; and other confidential financial deals." Also to be coded are: "words or actions that tend to dispute the fact that the Church of Scientology's motives are humanitarian: i.e., harass, eradicate, attack, destroy, annihilate, cave-in, entrapment, stir up the opposition." Also to be coded are: "actions of confidential corporate tax bodies, tax strategy, and names of accounts; admission to unpunished crimes and/or incriminating data; and other things that we do not want connected to the Church of Scientology."

5. Intelligence Specialist Training routine - TR L - this is a policy used to train an agent to lie effectively to the media or to a government agency.
6. Drill - a policy giving several examples of drills to be carried out against enemies.
7. Burglary - a policy giving some basic data on this subject.
8. B&E'S - a policy on breaking and entering.
9. Intelligence Bureau Stat - a policy on a point system assigned to various covert activities.
10. Safe U.S. - an internal directive on placing agents into various government agencies.
11. Re: Intelligence - this policy lists the five ways of collecting data: "infiltration, bribery, buying information, robbery, and blackmail."
12. Walk-ins - a lengthy policy on breaking and entering into buildings, how to use a locked xerox machine detailed instructions on how to break into locks, complete with diagrams.

13. De-bugging - complete information on the debugging and de-bugging of telephones, complete with diagrams.
